My Digital Footprint

BY BRYNNE KEEPENCE

Reflection

(My Old Facebook Account)

The screenshot shows a Facebook profile page for 'Brynne Keepence'. At the top, there is a blue navigation bar with the Facebook logo on the left and a login form on the right. The login form includes fields for 'Email or Phone' (containing 'ne.keepence@gmail.com') and 'Password' (masked with dots), a 'Log In' button, and a link for 'Forgot account?'. Below the navigation bar, the profile header features a profile picture of a cartoon girl with orange hair, the name 'Brynne Keepence', and tabs for 'Friends', 'Photos', and 'Videos'. A notification box on the right side of the header says 'Brynne Keepence is on Facebook. To connect with Brynne, sign up for Facebook today.' with 'Log In' and 'Sign Up' buttons. The main content area is divided into three columns. The left column has 'About Brynne Keepence' (with 'No info to show'), 'Favorites' (listing 'Games' with a 'Hypixel Server' icon), and 'Other' (with 'No Pages to show.'). The middle column is titled 'Photos' and contains a message: 'Log in or Create an account to see photos of Brynne Keepence' with 'Login into Facebook' and 'Create New Facebook Account' buttons. The right column is titled 'Others Named Brynne Keepence' and shows a small profile picture and the name 'Brynne Keepence'.

When you Google my name, ("brynne keepence"), nothing important comes up. You can see my old Facebook account that I don't remember the password to. The only reason I got the account was for games that would give you extra points if you linked them together. The other thing that comes up about me is my YouTube channel that has nothing on it.

On the second page, it has links for drawing tutorial videos that my younger self commented on saying how good they were. There are also links to two of my friends Instagram account since they are public, and my Instagram username has my first and last name on it. However if someone tried to look at my Instagram account, they wouldn't be able to since my account is private.

There are also no photos of my face on google images.

How My Digital Might Affect My Future

Future Education:

I don't think it should affect my future education at all since it's nothing bad. Nowhere on the searches can you see my face, so nobody can falsely identify as myself using my face.

Family and Friends:

My name is connected to some of my friends public Instagram accounts, so they could be found if my first and last name is searched in quotations. However, they cannot view my profile since my account is private. They can't find any personal information about myself other than my first and last name.

How Can I Keep My Digital Footprint Appropriate and Safe?

One thing would definitely keep your social media platforms private so nobody can see anything that you might regret. When your account is private, you can select and remove the people you want/don't want seeing your stuff.

If the platform you are using doesn't have a private feature, either don't use it, or don't post anything you don't want some people to not see. When something is public, anybody in the world could see it. So make sure you don't post anything that you might regret in the future

Another important thing is don't put your location or any other important information about yourself on a public site or bio, because anybody could see those things. There are some scary people in this world that could come across that kind of information and use it against you in some way.

What Is Something I Could Tell Others To Keep Them Safe?

I would tell people to make sure they have private accounts. It just has that extra security so you know who is seeing your stuff. But some people have private accounts, but still let totally random people follow them, even if their other friends don't know who they are. Some people accept them because they just don't care, but some accept them just for their follower count to go up, which I think isn't very smart since you are letting total strangers see your stuff.

If you one day post a rather embarrassing picture online, you don't want it staying on the internet forever. If you have a private account, you can delete it and not have to worry much about it coming up again, but if it's on a public account, who knows could've screenshotted it or posted it somewhere else. It's easier just to go private rather than having to deal with a scary and stressful situation like that.
